WICOLAUNCH WORKING PRINCIPLES

NFT funding platform is a new system designed for production of independent film or content creation. This system provides financing for the selected working methods from the alternatives by applicant producers. The producer may offer various promises to the NFT holders.

This system is based on that the project producers can divide any part of collection values and/or income percentage of their projects into NFTs by a certain number and fund them over WIDEANGLE (WICO) system.

The applicant producer clearly declares the contents of their NFTs to be created to the investors during listing phase.

The applicant producer submits the project file and declares possible streams of income of their NFTs to the potential investors. The investors buy NFTs over provided methods by considering its prospective artistic value or offers from commercial returns by taking the risks of current status.
